

A TREASURE FOUND.

Hidden on the Banks of Auglaize River.

PROVED TO BE BRITISH GOLD.

Two Adventurers Excavate an Historic Spot—An Indian Trader's Story—Martha Fairfield of Defiance County, O., Has Charts Marking the Fabled Spot—A Frenchman's Story.

DEFIANCE, O., Aug. 19.—Frank Slavin and George Jeffreys, two young men who were camping out on the Auglaize river, in Paulding county, left their homes at Junction a few days since for a two weeks' outing, but returned Saturday morning almost breathless with excitement, and displayed a half dozen pieces of gold and silver coin, bearing dates ranging from 1784 to 1805, and stating that they had found them near a large excavation at the foot of a high bluff on the south bank of the river, just across from Blodgett's island.

The young men had pitched their camp on the island, which is an historic spot, owing to the fact that on its north shore there still remains a large mound, a relic of the days when Ohio was peopled by a race whose history alike remains unwritten and untold. Just opposite the island stands the cement mills, and a little further up the river is a high bluff of slate stone. The side of this wall for some distance is as smooth as though built by human hands. Along the base of the bluff is a strip of sand, which stretches along the river for 100 yards. This narrow belt is overgrown with willows and underbrush, which almost hide the lower surface of the wall.

It was while roaming their way through this underbrush that the young men made their discovery. Near the center of the bluff they found a large excavation in the slate stone and sand. Leading to the water's edge was a path, which had been cut through the underbrush.

When the boys related their story to the villagers at Junction Saturday morning a searching party was formed and the young men led their way back to the river to visit the spot. They found the bluff as described, and were soon standing at the place where the coins had been picked up from the sand near the excavation. From the underbrush near the spot was taken a spade, pick ax and a couple of steel bars used as jimmies. The tools were all new. It is believed they were purchased in this city by two strangers who have been here for the last 10 days, claiming they were looking over the land south of this city, with a view of organizing a stock company and drilling for oil. This pretext was a good one, as it has long been the firm conviction of the people of this city that oil could be obtained from a strata of rock near the cement mills.

A further investigation near the spot where the excavation was made showed that the men, whoever they were, had had some little difficulty in locating the place where it is firmly believed they unearthed a buried treasure of great value. While examining the ground at this point a number of the searching party discovered two Spanish doubloons, bearing dates corresponding with those found by the young men. On the face of the cliff, about six feet from its base, there was discovered cut in the rock a large cross, and below this a number of strange marks which were as unintelligible as the hieroglyphic marks made on the obelisks of Egypt.

Which way the fortune seekers went is a mystery, as they have disappeared from the locality completely, leaving no trace of their identity.

The strangest part of the story is the fact that the treasure, the immensity of which can only be surmised, has lain buried beneath the sand of the Auglaize river for nearly a century, though the story of its existence has been known to some of the early settlers of northwestern Ohio for many years.

It adds another chapter to the written history of the northwest, and makes still more complete the circumstances surrounding the action of the British during the time of the war of 1812.

There lives in Mark township of this county a woman grown old in years who has in her possession a number of charts and papers relating to the hiding place of this treasure which she has guarded most zealously for more than half a century. Her name is Martha Fairfield. She has been a resident of Defiance county her entire life.

Away back in the early '40s she says there came to her home an Indian trader. He was a Frenchman and was sick with the fever. Her parents took the man in and nursed him through his last illness. During the delirium, which attended the fever, he frequently raved about some hoarded wealth, but his ravings were considered the hallucinations of a diseased brain. Finally he rallied for a short interval, and during his rational hours he attempted to tell his benefactors the story of the buried treasure.

The Frenchman's story was in substance as follows, which is told by Martha Fairfield: "It was during the time of the war of 1812, when the British under command of Hull had possession of Detroit, a party of English subjects, accompanied by Indian guides, left Detroit with $12,000 in gold coin to pay off the British soldiers and their Indian allies in the Northwest; they were traveling through Ohio when they were intercepted by the government troops coming up from Kentucky. The gold was heavy and burdensome and, fearing it would fall into the hands of the Americans, the British had buried it on the shore of the Auglaize river, a few miles from the intersection of the Maumee. In an engagement shortly after many of the party were killed and the treasure was never recovered." The French trader, realizing that he was dying, gave his charts and a number of closely written sheets of parchment, which were written in an unintelligible language, to the Fairfield family, and told them to seek out the treasure for themselves.

During late years numerous persons in this city have taken their turn at seeking the chest of gold. Among them is the well known real estate agent, Charles E. Brouson, who is serving a sentence in the Ohio penitentiary; the Davidson brothers, and Nellie Moore, a reporter on The Week's Current of Chicago.

DEUTSCHE.
A Gathering of Veterans Who Have Served in the Regular Army.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19.—Delegates and visitors to the national meeting of the Deutscher Kriegerbund have been arriving in the city all day, and the local committee have been receiving the delegations and escorting them to their respective headquarters.

The Kriegerbund is an organization composed of veterans who have served in the German army, and the national fest is a gathering very similar in many respects to the national encampment of the G. A. R. There are 54 subordinate societies in the United States, with a membership of 6,000. It is expected all of those societies will be represented at the meeting. Delegations are here from Cleveland, Allegheny, Cincinnati, Akron, St. Louis, Chicago, Sheboygan, Wis.; Joliet, Ills.; Minneapolis, Aurora, Ill.; McKeesport, Pa.; Carnegie, Pa.; and Batesville, Ind., and many others will arrive during the night and early in the morning.

Sunday night an informal reception and concert was held at Volk's hall, the general headquarters. The festivities proper open today, there being a parade in the morning and target shooting contests in the afternoon. The uniformed division will participate in these contests. Pittsburgh and Allegheny have sent uniformed divisions, and others are expected. These divisions are composed of the younger men of the organization and carry the same style guns which they used in actual service. Most of them being what are known as the Manser rifles. A series of banquets and balls will be given throughout the meeting. The business session of the Kriegerbund will not open until Tuesday.

MGR. SATOLLI
Sees No Harm in Drinking Beer as It Is Drunk in the Fatherland.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—It is understood here that Mgr. Satolli is giving his attention to the question raised by the petition to himself for the suppression of the brewery conducted by the Benedictine monks at Beatty, Pa., with a view to harmonizing the differences, so as to placate the complainants and at the same time not deal harshly with the ecclesiastics who conduct the brewery. He is giving his attention to the petition, not only from the point of the petitioners, but also considers the fact that the monks are native Germans who cannot see harm in the drinking of beer made after the manner pursued in the Fatherland.

The effort will be to settle the dispute without any formal decision.

To Explore Alaska.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Harry De Wyndt, the well known traveler and explorer, in an interview yesterday said: "After a winter lecture tour in America, I intend to start in April from Vancouver, via Sitka, to Mount St. Elias, whence I will attempt to cross a hitherto unexplored part of Alaska to Prince of Wales' cape, and thence to cross to East Cape and proceed to Chitina, Okhotsk, Yakutsk, Irkutsk, Tomsk and home through Russia. The expedition will carry light rubber boats, dogs and sledges. The objects of the journey are to explore Alaska, and to study the conditions of the political exiles of Siberia."

Quite a Blaze at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Aug. 19.—Fire starting in the engine room of the patent steel whip company yesterday afternoon destroyed stock and machinery and entire 3-story brick and frame building, entailing a loss of $20,000 on stock and machinery and $10,000 on building. A brisk wind blew sparks two blocks off and burned three 1-story frame dwellings and set fire to a number of other houses. Ex-Fire Chief R. Q. King was seriously injured. He had three ribs broken and was otherwise internally injured. Firemen Charles Thorp, John Weir and Harry Todd were bruised and scratched up but not seriously.

A Regular Thing Hereafter.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 19.—The Big Four ran its first passenger train into Louisville over the new Louisville and Jeffersonville bridge at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. This is the bridge on which so many lives were lost during its construction. The bridge, with its approaches, is about two miles long. Beginning today regular trains will be run over the new bridge which will be an important matter to this city. Suburban trains will probably be put in operation shortly and a large space of country will be brought in direct communication with Louisville.

BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 19.—An electric storm, accompanied by hail, passed over this section Sunday evening. At Custer City hailstones fell measuring six inches in circumference.

H. H. HOLMES' CASTLE.

It Is Likely to Be Entirely Consumed.

HATCH LOCATED IN PROVIDENCE

Suspicion That It and One Charles Bran Were the Same Person—Some Years Ago He Was Studying For the Ministry and Was Considered a Model Young Man. Had Many Aliases.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—H. H. Holmes' "castle" at Sixty-third and Wallace streets, which is said to have been the scene of numerous murders by the owner, was discovered to be on fire at 12:30 o'clock Monday morning. It is now believed that it will be entirely consumed, and adjacent property is in great danger.

This famous building has for some time past been tenanted only on the ground floor by a drugstore and small restaurant, and it was in the latter that the fire originated. The interior of the building was practically ruined. The loss will aggregate $15,000.

"HATCH."

The Much Wanted Accomplice of Holmes, Is Finally Discovered.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 19.—Inspectors in the Providence police department have just made the discovery that "Hatch," the much wanted accomplice of the notorious H. H. Holmes, who formerly lived in this city, and that his deserted wife is living here at the present time. They have suspected for some time that "Hatch" and one Charles Brace, formerly a photographer here, were the same person, but were unable until today or two ago to confirm their suspicions.

Samuel L. Kirk of this city is brother-in-law of Brace. Mr. Kirk willingly admitted that his sister married Brace, alias "Hatch," 12 years ago at Moor's forks, a small place in Clinton county, New York, near the Canadian frontier. He was considered a model young man and school teacher. Twelve years ago he was studying for the ministry.

Soon after a Dr. Mudgett came to board in the Brace family and young Brace and the doctor became fast friends. One day, however, the elder Brace and Dr. Mudgett quarreled and the latter moved.

Young Brace and his wife soon after this went to Boston, where Brace arranged to go into partnership in a grocery business in Cambridge. The firm was known as Brace and Will. One day Brace was reported missing and it was found that he had taken with him all the firm's available cash.

Soon afterward he appeared in this city, having secured a position with a photographer named Rose. He subsequently took charge of Mr. Rose's Narragansett Pier office and while thus engaged one day, after kissing his wife goodbye, as usual, he left the city and never returned. In this instance, also, he had collected as much money as possible before his departure.

In Chicago Brace assumed the name of Charles Gilbert. Through a brother who lived in Chicago his identity was established, and it was learned that he had married a 19-year-old girl, and was employed in one of the offices of the Standard Oil company.

Mrs. Brace followed her husband to Chicago and laid the case before his employers. They called in Gilbert and she recognized him, but he refused to give either his wife or his employers any satisfaction, and the next day, with his second wife, he left Chicago. Mrs. Brace then came back here. Later it was learned that the young woman whom Brace had married in Chicago was not with him, and Mrs. Brace advances the opinion that she became a victim of Holmes.

FOUGHT FOR A CHILD.

Father and Mother Have a Lively Time on a Youngstown Street.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 19.—A decided sensation was created on Maple avenue by a controversy between J. Cephas Augustine, a well-known painter, and his wife as to who should have charge of a child. The fight of the father and mother of a child in a wordy warfare on the open street as to who the child belonged to was unusual there, and the quiet neighborhood was thoroughly aroused.

The child has been living with its mother for some time past, and the husband and wife had parted. The child, a daughter, still remains with the mother pending a decision of the court.

Frequently at night, when Buchanan came home, his wife would make complaint about some trivial thing the child had done, or failed to do, and then he would take the little thing out of bed, whip her, and then throw her in a shed where the dogs were kept. The child also confessed these things to a Mrs. Myers, and stated further that on several occasions Buchanan and his wife went up into the hills and got bushes with thorns still sticking on them, and beat her with them, after first compelling her to strip off all her clothing. It is also alleged that when the child cried for help they would beat her in the mouth to still her cries.

DETROIT, Aug. 19.—John Stafferson died early yesterday morning as the result of a blow on the head which fractured his skull. The deceased, who was drunk, made some insulting remark to an unknown man, who was passing with a lady. The stranger knocked Stafferson down and it is believed his head struck the curbstone, inflicting the fatal wound.

FOREST FIRES.

Have Wiped Many Homes of Miners in Washington.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—A Times Herald special from Spokane, Wash., says: "Forest fires continue to spread with fearful rapidity throughout Stevens county, in this state, Kootenai and Shoshone counties, Idaho, and in the mining districts across the line in British Columbia. For two days Roseland, B. C., the booming Camp Trail Creek mining town has been threatened on all sides by fires. Every able-bodied citizen in the town and mines surrounding has been fighting day and night to save it from destruction, and by herculean efforts they have succeeded. The flames are now many miles away, licking up everything in their path. Not only are the fires destroying grand forests of timber, but have wiped out the cabin home and supplies of many a miner and in numerous instances they have had to flee for their lives.

Tales told by the fugitives of their narrow escapes are thrilling in the extreme. Three Forks, a small mining town in Shoshone County, was burned out completely and the inhabitants narrowly escaped. The families are coming into Kusto and Shoshone footsore and destitute. Many hundreds of prospectors are in the burning districts and fears are entertained that many will not be heard of again.

In the Coner d'Alene country the fires continue with unabated fury. Miners and prospectors are deserting their cabin homes in the path of the flames and are seeking refuge in places of safety.

Nothing has been heard from the little village of Saltese, which was reported threatened with destruction Saturday. It is isolated from communication by wires, and several days may elapse before definite news can be had from there. This season has been a dry one, and in a measure accounts for the terrible havoc now being done by the flames.

JUDGE LYNCH.

Held a Session in Florida Sunday—No Person Objected.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 19.—Samuel Lewis, murderer of three men, was taken from jail at Jacksonville, Fla., by a mob of masked men, and lynched. When the mob demanded Lewis the jailer said they could have him if they would harm no one else, to which they consented. As the door was opened a negro deputy ran out. Some one fired, missing him and killing Gustave Kaiser, the jailer. The mob continued firing at the negro but he escaped. Four men then entered the jail and took Lewis, who begged pitifully for his life, to a telegraph pole, where he was hanged, after which the body was riddled with bullets.

Lewis shot and killed John Highsmith, ex-tax collector of Dade county, and his brother-in-law, George Davis, in cold blood. Lewis escaped, but a posse caught him. In arresting him Lewis shot and killed Deputy County Clerk Ret McGregor. Lewis is said to have killed five men before.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Man Crazy With Grief Buried in a Mass of Seething Flames.

ELGIN, Ills., Aug. 19.—Frank Kazar and his 4-year-old daughter, Sylvia, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their residence and several other buildings at Algonquin, a small village near here, early Sunday morning.

The fire started in Kazar's house. When aroused Kazar managed to get his wife and two of his children out safely, but before he could reach Sylvia, a portion of the floor fell in, carrying the child down. Kazar was crazed with grief and resisted the efforts of neighbors to drag him from the burning structure, clinging to the door frame until the roof fell in, burying him in the blazing mass. The loss aggregates a few thousand dollars.

WHIPPED WITH THORNS.

Brutal Treatment to Which a Child Was Subjected.

CHILLICOTHE, O., Aug. 19.—John Buchanan and wife were arrested Saturday, charged with inhumanely treating their 13-year-old adopted daughter, Emma Miuke. The girl was taken from the infirmary and adopted by them six years ago, since which time she has been subject to abuse.

It is said to have been a common thing for the woman to strip the child naked and then beat her with the bnggy whip. These whippings, it is alleged, were not of occasional occurrences, but were almost a daily event, and one witness testified that they often happened three or four times in a single day.

MISSIONARIES IN DANGER.

Great Indignation Expressed Against the Clergy in Peru.

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 19.—American missionaries are the object of intense indignation at Cuzco. They arrived, and clergy and people at once made a demand on the government to expel them. The government replied that they were trustworthy missionaries, entitled to consideration as long as they were law-abiding, and instructed the city officials to guard their missions. The government declared that Protestants were equivalent to Catholics under the law. An insurrection is imminent.

MONTGOMERY, Mich., Aug. 19.—Nine business houses, including the post-office, Masonic and G. A. R. halls and the principal drugstore, were destroyed by an incendiary fire early Sunday morning. The losses aggregate $45,000; insurance about $12,000.

DENVER'S FIERCE FIRE

Gumry Hotel Wrecked by an Explosion.

BUILDINGS IN VICINITY WRECKED

Hotel Crowded With Guests, Many of Whom Must Have Been Killed as Well as Entire Force of Employees—Pedestrians Injured by Falling Glass—Cause of Explosion Uncertain.

DENVER, Aug. 19.—The Gumry hotel, 1725 to 1733 Lawrence street, was wrecked by a terrible explosion at 12:10 a. m. The rear half of the building, a five-story brick and stone structure, went down with a crash. The hotel was crowded with guests and many of them must have been killed, as well as the entire force of hotel employees, who were sleeping in the portion of the building that fell. On both sides of Lawrence, from Seventeenth to Eighteenth streets, and on Larimer, directly back of the Gumry, the plate glass windows of the business houses were blown in and a number of pedestrians were injured by falling glass. The fronts of many buildings in the vicinity were badly wrecked.

The hotel structure for 100 along the alley and extending 75 feet toward the front is a mass of debris. Brick and plaster are piled in heaps 20 feet high and from this mass of wreckage can be heard the moans of the injured and dying. At 12:35 five injured persons have been taken out. They were all inmates of the upper story and sank down with the floors, escaping more fortunately than those below, who are still buried in the ruins. The firemen are working like beavers, digging into the debris, but are making little progress. The remaining portion of the building, from which the guests are being removed by ladders as fast as possible, is expected to fall at any moment and precautions to avert further loss of life adds to the difficulty in reaching the dead and injured.

By some estimate 40 people were in the portion of the hotel destroyed, nearly all of whom must be dead. It will be late before a full list can be obtained. The cause of the explosion is uncertain, but it is supposed that the battery of boilers in the hotel basement must have exploded. The sound of the explosion was heard throughout the city, awakening people in bed a mile away. A cloud of dust was thrown a thousand feet in the air, and as there was not a breath of air stirring, it still hangs in the air like a huge column. Minute atoms of powdered brick and mortar are descending like gentle snow.

At 12:30 the rains are burning fiercely and the firemen have been obliged to retreat from the work of rescue. Every engine in the city is pouring streams into the mass, but the flames can not possibly be gotten under control before many of the injured have been cremated. As their chances of escape lessen the cries of the imprisoned people are increasing, heartrending shrieks rising from every portion of the great mass of wreckage. Fears are now entertained that the front portion of the building, which seems to be tottering, will fall and bury the firemen at their work.

During the height of the excitement a horse team ran away on Eighteenth street, stampeding the great crowd of spectators.

A number of people were more or less injured by being trampled upon and falling in the broken glass, which covers the streets and sidewalks in every direction.

Electric light wires dangling from broken poles in the alley added fresh peril to the firemen. One horse was killed by coming in contact with a live wire. Two injured women had been almost extricated from the ruins when the flames approached so close that the rescuers had to abandon them for their own safety. Both voices have now been silenced, fire completing the work commenced by the explosion. The bodies of three women are also to be seen in the back part of the building, but can not be reached.

At 1:30 a. m. the flames are still keeping the firemen back from the work of rescue, except just at the line of the alley wall. Of those pinioned beneath the debris only two are thought to be alive, both men from the fifth story, who are still lying on their beds. Both are covered with several feet of debris about their heads and can hardly survive another half hour. Almost no progress is being made at releasing them, as the smoke is blinding. The flames are only kept back from their bodies by half a dozen streams of water.

Thus far six other persons in the house have been taken from the ruins, all badly injured. In addition four were severely cut by glass falling into the street. A piece of the cornice of the Cheesman block at Seventeenth and Larimer street, fully a block from the hotel, was torn out and fell to the street, narrowly missing several passers-by. The fragment weighed at least a ton.

In the wrecked building there was a tier of five or six rooms extending across the rear of the building, facing the alley, on each of the three upper floors. All of these rooms are believed to have been occupied as people residing in rooms across the alley observed lights burning in every window during the evening.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—A dispatch to The Chronicle from Paris says that a great pilgrimage started for Lourdes yesterday. It presented a thorough production of Zola's word picture in his novel of that name. The number of sick and paralyzed was far greater than in 1894.

A MEETING of the so-called silverites was held at Washington City last week, and it is said the most significant thing about the meeting was that those present were not representative silver men, but Washington agents, who make their headquarters there the year around and lobby during Congressional sessions. Such out-and-out silver men as Turpie, of Indiana; Warner and Thurman, of Ohio, and Sibley, of Pennsylvania, gave the meeting a wide berth. Little Urey Woodson, of Kentucky, was on hand, however. The fact that those present are in the main lobbyists goes to show that the mine-owners of the West and the people who hold stock in these concerns are at the bottom of the free silver movement.

WAGES UNDER THE NEW TARIFF.

"The trade journals teem with accounts of the continued advance in the wages of labor and the rise in prices of products, especially in the textile and metal industries," says the Philadelphia Record. "Every day, in fact, brings fresh proof that the panic created last year by the calamity howlers against the new tariff, was without reason, and had its origin in mere partisan wantonness. In Pittsburgh where the Hungarians and Poles were turned out of the mill to the last man to vote against the 'wicked, wage-destroying tariff,' business is booming in every department of the iron and steel manufactures. In the woolen industries, which the Wilson act was alleged to have doomed to destruction, the demand for raw material is steadily increasing and the prices of products and the rates of wages advancing. Whilst the protectionist predictions of ruin to these industries by the reduction of the duties have been disproved, the admission of wool to the free list has removed the chief obstacle to their prosperity. That which was most fiercely assailed in the new tariff—free wool—constitutes its greatest achievement.

"Over all the cheering improvement in industrial conditions, the calamity howlers, who lately made the air reverberate with their insensate lies against the new tariff, are as still as carp in a pool.

"The protectionists have constantly asserted that the higher wages in this country were made by a high tariff, in face of the fact that in the same industries there is a wider disparity in the rates of wages in various parts of the United States than among the different nations of Europe. When driven from the false position that a high tariff makes high wages, they have taken refuge in the equally false plea that obstruction to imports secures employment for home labor, by defeating foreign competition. But this assertion is overturned by the fact that the enhanced cost of raw materials by protective duties seriously cripples the power of production. In order to meet competition American manufacturers were obliged to reduce wages. On the other hand, free raw materials facilitate production and enable the manufacturers to pay better wages to labor; and the workmen receive a part of what was formerly expended in paying duties on these materials. The advance of wages in the woolen industries is a signal triumph of the new tariff, and alone amply vindicates the policy of its supporters.

"The improvement in the condition of the wool workers under the policy of free raw materials will make not only workmen but manufacturers in all other industries, less susceptible than ever before to the high tariff pleadings. As the market for American industrial products shall widen under the stimulating influence of free raw materials, and the opportunities for remunerative employment increase, a reaction to high tariff spoliation will be out of the question. Such defects in the new law as time and experience shall reveal may be safely left to the future action of the people."

SEEKING HOMES FOR THE HOMELESS

The Children's Home Society of Chicago is Engaged in This Laudable Work.

The Children's Home Society is incorporated under the laws of the State of Illinois, for the purpose of caring for homeless children. The method is to seek approved homes that wish to receive the children, either by adoption or special contract, to carefully inquire as to the kind of child desired by each, and to send such a child on a trial of not less than three months. The society receives the child again if it is not suited to the home.

The society has been in operation eleven years, has received 2,000 children and has placed them in carefully selected homes.

Persons wishing to receive children, either by adoption or special contract, will address, Rev. George K. Hoover, 167 Dearborn street, room 712, Chicago, Ill., who will answer promptly and send needed information.

Homes are wanted for the following children: Five boy babes, from four weeks to four months; three girl babes, from two weeks to four months; seven boys, from two to nine years; two girls, five to thirteen years; one colored boy, nine years; one colored girl, four weeks.

Man Drowned.

A man who occupied a shantyboat was drowned at a point nearly opposite Manchester Saturday afternoon. The steamer Silver Wave that conveyed the remains of the late H. L. Wilson to his home in Wilson Bottom had landed shortly before and her waves loosened the shanty-boat, which floated out in the stream, with the man's wife and children on board. The proprietor started to swim to his boat but was taken with cramps and was drowned, while the wife and children looked on powerless to aid him. Their screams attracted a crowd, but too late. It is reported the man's name was Stephen Tollo.

The remains were recovered yesterday afternoon. The unfortunate was from Charleston, W. Va.

Maysville Merchants Send Out a Large Number of Comps to the Blue Ribbon Fair.

The wholesale merchants of this city are doing the handsome thing by their patrons this year.

They finished mailing 1,500 complimentary tickets to the Blue Ribbon fair last Saturday, and the patrons will no doubt appreciate the kindness and be on hand this week in large numbers.

These complimentary were sent out to the merchants of the surrounding country who patronize Maysville's houses. Maysville has quite a list of "commercial tourists," and the number of their patrons among the merchants of the surrounding country will no doubt surprise many people.

The business men having invited these patrons to the fair will of course be on hand to receive and entertain their guests, and see that their visit is a pleasant one.

Thursday has been set apart as Merchants' Day at the fair.

All articles for exhibition in the floral hall must be delivered to-day or to-morrow. Nothing will be received Wednesday.

IT WILL CHARM ANY WOMAN

To see our gathering of choice things for summer wear. It will surprise the thriftiest among them how absurdly small many of the prices are.

White Parasols. French Challies.

You have two months to use them still and you will be equipped for next summer at one-half the price it will cost you then.

Silkene, English frame, white enameled stick, very chic, 98 cents.

Unruffled Silk, close weave, handsome quality, white enameled stick, $1.25.

Finest grade China Silk, ruffled edge, close ribbed, beautifully enameled stick, $1.50.

Not because they are shop worn or bad design, but because we don't want the season to go before they do. Nothing prettier for dainty house gowns this winter, attractive tea gowns or well-wearing school frocks, and the price is purse-pleasing at 25 cents. These goods are genuine all wool French Challies, the kind that sell for 50 and 75 cents. They are certainly well worth your attention if you are a wise woman. Are you?

Placket Fastener.

Have you ever seen a yawning placket? Is it pretty? is it neat? Avoid such exhibitions of carelessness by investing 10 cents in a fastener. It can be adjusted in five minutes.

Silks.

Did you avail of our sale last week? It continues through this, and now is the time to select the waist for that odd skirt you want to wear this winter.

The above tell the story of a storeful. Big values, little prices. We lose, you gain. Bargains are economy; economy is wealth.

THE HUNTINGTONS.

They Play Here This Afternoon and To-morrow—They Put Up Good Ball—Diamond Dust.

The Huntingtons came down this morning and will play the Maysvilles this afternoon and to-morrow afternoon. Dick Smith who pitched for the Irontons in the game they won from Maysville last Friday will likely be in the box this afternoon for the visitors. He pitches good ball. The Huntingtons and Maysvilles have played four games this season, and the West Virginians have won two. They play four games this week, two here and two at Huntington, and the Huntington boys are boasting that they will win three of them. The games here will be interesting, and there should be a big crowd to see them. Maysville people should show their appreciation of the local team. The boys are playing great ball and their games should be well patronized.

The game at Ironton Saturday was won by the Maysvilles; score 6 to 2. Rain stopped the playing in the sixth inning. Maysville had two men on bases and only one out when the game was called. Wellner pitched for Maysville, and the Irontons had gotten but two hits. He was making monkeys of Melville's team, and had them fanning the wind right along. Breitenstein pitched for Ironton, and was a regular "puddin'" for the boys.

Fred Frank is with the Huntingtons this trip.

The Huntingtons have a stronger team than when here the last time. The Maysvilles will have to play to win.

The statement in the Ledger that Riegan was knocked out of the box Friday is not true. The Irontonian says he put up a good game.

Irontonian: "As an outfielder Cox is a 'cracker-jack,' and there are no flies on Heilman at short. The latter made several sensational stops and catches."

The boys say with anything like good umpiring, they would have won Friday's game at Ironton with ease. The Irontonian admits the umpire was rank.

There is talk of the Maysvilles challenging the Reds for a series of five games after the League season closes, two to be played in Cincinnati, two here and one on neutral grounds. Maybe they wouldn't draw big crowds.

Ashland News: "Maysville people evidently do not appreciate the good thing they have in their base ball team, as there is never a game down there that a kick is not registered as to the attendance. The latest from the BULLETIN is to the effect that the management cannot afford to bring teams to the town if there is not a better support."

Tribune: "No response has been received from Maysville in regard to a game for Sept. 20, and this makes the boys feel warm under the collar. Bannie says: 'If the Maysville team can't be induced to come to Cincinnati to play the Reds on the 20th, the Reds will go to Maysville again. Captain Ewing and all the rest of the players are fairly aching for an opportunity to wipe out the stain of those two defeats.'"

Enquirer: "There is a possibility of the crack Maysville team playing the Gymnasiums in Cincinnati. The management of the Gym team has written for a game to be played here on Sunday, the date to be as early as possible. In return the Gyms want to play in Maysville for two games. It is doubtful if any amateur club could be brought to this city that could draw as good a crowd as the Kentuckians. There have been many who have said that the Gym team would prove a hard nut for Maysville. If Manager Lawson can secure a date for a game in this city he need have no fear of a small crowd."

WILLIAM ROBINSON, of Danville, sold to Joe Thayer, of Lexington, his fast young mare May Day, record 2:18½, by Abdallah Mambrino, dam by Messenger Chief, for $1,500. She trotted second to Clarine at Versailles Friday in 2:13½ and it is said is much faster than her record.

ELIZABETH THOMPSON POYNITZ, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Poyntz, died at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning at the family residence, aged fifteen months. The little one had been ill several weeks, and had made a brave struggle, but the tenderest nursing and best of medical attention were without avail. It is a sad blow to the bereaved parents, who have the sympathy of the community in this dark hour. The funeral occurs at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence, with services by Rev. W. O. Cochrane.

THE STILLWELL MURDER.

Dr. Hearne and Wife Were Indicted Saturday at Hannibal, Mo., For This Crime.

A special says: "Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Hearne were indicted Saturday at Hannibal, Mo., for murder in the first degree, charged with the killing of Amos J. Stillwell, the wealthy pork packer, on the night of December 26, 1888. At the time it was that the object of the murder was robbery, but subsequent developments have pointed to his wife and Dr. Hearne as the authors of the terrible butchery."

"Dr. Hearne's marriage to the widow in less than a year after Stillwell's death, their divorce three years ago and remarriage soon thereafter caused an article to be published in the San Francisco Chronicle, for which Dr. Hearne brought suit for libel, asking $100,000 damages."

"Depositions taken in the case developed a chain of circumstantial evidence against Dr. and Mrs. Hearne, which formed the basis of Saturday's indictments. The doctor and his wife were arrested and conveyed to Palmyra, where they were placed in jail, and will be accorded treatment similar to that of other prisoners. They occupy separate cells. The offense charged is not bailable. Their trial will likely take place at the September term of court."

THE SHOE FACTORY.

It Was Sold Saturday to a New Company Who Expect to Double Its Capacity.

The Maysville Shoe Factory was sold to Hamberger Brothers Saturday evening.

They have leased the building for a year and it is the intention of the present owners to make it a go. Before the year closes, they hope to at least double the present force.

These gentlemen are practical shoe men, having been in the business for years. They have a large jobbing shoe house in Cincinnati, and are the proprietors of the Progress Shoe Store, northeast corner of Second and Sutton streets, recently bought of W. C. Miner.

Mr. G. H. Brodt, who organized the original company, has an interest in the new company and will continue to act as Superintendent of the factory, giving the details his personal attention, and will continue to turn out only good work. The BULLETIN and every good citizen of Maysville trust that this enterprise may prove a grand success.

The new owners take possession at once.

M. L. HARBESON, as administrator of Charles Miller, sued the C. C. C. and St. L. Railroad Company at Cincinnati for $10,000 damages for running over and killing Miller.

BISHOP HAYGOOD has changed the date of Methodist conferences in Kentucky as follows: Kentucky Conference, Winchester, from September 11th to 18th; Louisville conference, from September 25th to 26th.

SQUIRRELS were never more abundant in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky than they are this season. A gentleman who has traveled considerably in the region about the Three forks of the Kentucky river, says that the woods are swarming with them and that they are becoming as common as rabbits. Fortunately there will be plenty of mast and the nimble little creatures will winter well.

NICHOLASVILLE people think they have an elephant on their hands in the Hardin-Bradley debate to be held there September 3rd. They expect ten or fifteen thousand people in town that day and have no room in town that will accommodate one-tenth of that number. As Mr. Bradley will not speak in the open air, they don't know what to do. There is some talk of renting a big circus tent for the speaking.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at J. James Wood's drug store.

WAS AFTER MONEY.

But Struck the Wrong Man—Kentucky Republicans Seeking Campaign "Material."

LINCOLN, NER., August 16.—Congressman Hunter, of Bowling Green, Ky., recently addressed a letter to Governor Holcomb, in which he requested the Governor to assist in raising a fund in Nebraska "to aid in the election of a Republican Governor in Kentucky, and thus break the solid South."

Governor Holcomb, who is a Populist, replied that it would please him very much to witness a breaking up of the solid South, but that he would regret to see the people of Dixie throw off the yoke of Cleveland Democracy only to assume the bonds of such an organization as the Republican party. The Governor adds:

"Your letter was doubtless addressed to me because the news of the partial redemption of Nebraska from Republican misrule had not yet reached the headquarters of the Republican Executive Committee of Kentucky, therefore, I return the communication as you would doubtless not desire to have it given publicity."

The above indicates that the Republicans of Kentucky are getting together a big pile of "hooille" with which to buy the State next November.

At Bloomington, Ill., George A. Hill, a colored lawyer has commenced suit to recover the price of twelve slaves, the sale of whom was made thirty-seven years ago. Samuel Lewis, a wealthy slave owner in Western Tennessee, died in 1858, and among his personal estate were twelve slaves. The heirs brought the slaves to Illinois, and, it is alleged, at Genevieve, Ill., they were sold to William Ferre, who is made defendant in this law suit.

Cure For Headache.

As a remedy for all forms of Headache, Electric Bitters has proved to be the very best. It effects a permanent cure and the most dreaded habitual sick headaches yield to its influence. We urge all who are afflicted to procure a bottle, and give this remedy a fair trial. In cases of habitual constipation Electric Bitters cures by giving the needed tone to the bowels, and few cases long resist the use of this medicine. Try it once. Only fifty cents, at J. James Wood's drug store.

Sound Money Will Win.

[Franklin Capital.]

The Capital is keeping a close "tab" on the Democratic nominations for Representative and Senator. It also has some idea about the political views of the "hold-over" Senators. It can count no way that will show any foundation for the claim of the free-silverites that they are going to have a majority in the next Legislature. We may be biased, but our count shows very nearly two sound money men to one free-silverite will sit in that joint body. If the "free-silverites" are satisfied with their advanced figures, so are we.

Good for nothing

did you say?

Yes, that describes how I feel.

My strength has left me and I have no inclination to work.

No one would take me for the same person that I used to be.

I look and feel forlorn and miserable.

My spirits are low, I feel despondent and I can't sleep at night.

I am constipated and my digestion is out of order.

I feel almost hopeless, it seems to me that I shall never be strong again.

Cheer up, your case is far from being hopeless. You are suffering from general debility, your nerves need toning up, you lack vitality. The cure lies in enriching and purifying your blood and strengthening the system. You should take Brown's Iron Bitters. It will restore you to robust, perfect health. You will improve from the first bottle. This remedy is pleasant to take and is a very powerful strengthener. It does not stain the teeth. But get the genuine—see the crossed red lines on wrapper.

He stated before his arrest that he was connected with the Commercial bank of Atlanta, Ala. He is held in jail pending instructions from Chattanooga.

Won All Wagers.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—C. H. Mitchell and W. B. Taylor, bicyclists, arrived here yesterday from Denver, having covered the entire distance on their wheels. With a week to spare they have accumulated $450 by giving banjo and mandolin concerts en route.

O. P. Woods, living on Locust Creek, Bracken County, undertook to break a colt a few days ago. He bestrode the fractious young animal, which soon tired of the operation and gave its rider a violent shake. In lighting, one of Mr. Woods' thigh bones was badly broken and he sustained other serious injuries besides.

The taxpayers of Richmond, Ky., have called a meeting for the purpose of naming a citizens' ticket for city offices. The move has some of the most prominent and influential men in Richmond, Democrats and Republicans, to support it. The city is in debt $40,000 and has a tax rate of $1.10, besides ten saloons licensed at $1,000 a year each.

The Grand Council of the Improved Order of Red Men at its session last week reduced representation to one delegate for 100 members in a tribe. Provision was made for the support of old or infirm members where a local tribe has dissolved or is unable to sustain them. The constitution was also amended so as to make it obligatory on subordinate tribes to elect their executive chiefs every half year. It also decided that henceforth Past Sachems can represent only in grand councils their own tribes or a tribe from the same county.

The Bath County Banner, a Republican paper, says that J. A. Salmon, a special agent of the Pension Bureau, has unearthed a number of pension frauds in that vicinity. "In one case," says the Banner, "the name of 'Squire W. H. Williams has been forged to certain certificates no less than eighteen times. These forgeries have been traced back as far as 1872. It is the desire of every honest, deserving pensioner that all frauds in this department shall be run down and rooted out, and to that end every assistance possible should be rendered the agents of the Government in their efforts to purify this branch of the service."

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

BIG PROFITS Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our.....

$10.00 Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WHITE FOX CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.
